What customers are saying...

Precision Engineering Company

“To say we have been impressed with the new coolant is an understatement. Coolant is something that can often be overlooked when talking about part quality and finish. The addition of this new coolant has transformed our component finish. We have noticed that, even after large batch work, the finish remains excellent and we have found no skin irritation with this product.”

UK Aerospace Manufacturer

“We suffer from hard water. With the new coolant our machines have been very clean running. We have found increased tool life and the surface finish has improved dramatically. We have found no foaming, even at extremely high pressures. This new grade of Chem Arrow coolant is the best one yet!”

US Automotive Manufacturer

“We are very pleased with this new technology. Having seen considerable improvement in our tool life, we will be converting all our machines in the coming months.”
